About

The name Farmily combines “Farm” and “Family”, a reflection of our belief that growing plants is not just a business, but a shared journey rooted in care, trust, and connection.

We focused on selling high-quality plant seeds and seedlings for home gardeners, plant lovers, and urban farmers. Whether you're starting your first garden or expanding your green space, Farmily offers carefully selected plants that are ready to grow and thrive.

We believe that everyone should have access to healthy, vibrant plants. Whether for beauty, food, or the joy of gardening. That’s why we make it easy to find and grow plants you can trust.

Vision

To inspire and support a greener lifestyle by making quality plants accessible to everyone.

Mission

- To provide a diverse range of healthy, high-quality plants for every type of grower.
- To make gardening simple, enjoyable, and accessible.
- To promote a love for nature and sustainable living through plants.
- To build a community of plant lovers who grow together like a family.
